Dear Jen and Curt,

The Diabetes Research Institute Foundation (DRIF) is so appreciative of your generous $5,000 donation. It is support such as yours that allows the Diabetes Research Institute (DRI) to advance its progress toward a cure.

It was finding a cure for diabetes, which is our singular focus, parents created the DRIF over 40 years ago. In the last several decades, we have funded research that has made significant contributions to the field, pioneering many of the techniques used in diabetes care centers and research facilities throughout the world.

The funds you provided will allow our scientists to continue developing the DRI BioHub, a comprehensive three-pronged approach to curing diabetes. Additionally, five FDA-approved clinical trials are underway or in the final planning stages. This is an exciting time at the DRI, and it would not be possible with support from friends like you.

You are welcome to contact me any time by calling 954.964.4040, or via email at skramer@drif.org.

Thank you again.

With gratitude,

Sean Kramer, CEO
